A laugh track (or laughter track) is a separate soundtrack for a recorded comedy show containing the sound of audience laughter. In some productions, the laughter is a live audience response instead; in the United States, where it is most commonly used, the term usually implies artificial laughter (canned laughter or fake laughter) made to be inserted into the show.

The book? Yes. (not the revised 'for the digital age' version, btw, though it's a little helpful supplement afterward) Many people seriously don't know the best ways to interact with others, e.g. that people don't like being corrected in front of others (and hence are less likely to 'absorb' the correction), that the only way to get someone to do something is to get them to want to do it by ...
